Meandering

By WASH FAYETTE

There are a lot of buildings in Washington C. H. that are steeped in traditions and rich in the lore of the city's growth from a cross-roads trading center into a thriving agricultural marketing center and later into a wartime industrial city of some consequence. . . Unfortunately, however, few have taken the trouble to keep their history. . . I understand that Dr. R. M. Hughey has been doing some research on the transition of Court Street and the adjoining business section. . . I don't know what progress he has made. . . but my guess is that he has run into many blank spots. . . but there are exceptions. . . one is the building in which Othol O. Wade has just put a modern shoe store. . . Its story could have many interesting parallels if the records were readily available. . . Miss May Duffee has taken the trouble to set down this history of the business room where her father, the late J. W. Duffee, once had the "Old Reliable Grocery."

"Beginning in 1844 the property was sold by Chancy Brooks to George Richey. In 1855 by Richey to John Shanton; in 1856 by Shanton to Mark Melvin; in 1857 by Melvin to Benjamin Bryant; in 1867 by Bryant to George Dahl and Andrew Hamilton; in 1870, Dahl and Hamilton to Lewis Schneider; in 1872 Schneider to William Vance; in 1874 Vance to C. C. Lawhead; in 1906 Lawhead to H. B. Dahl; in 1913 H. B. Dahl to J. W. Duffee; present owners, the Misses Grace and May Duffee."

"The property sold to George Dahl and Andrew Hamilton for $2,000 by Benjamin Bryant in 1869, was part of what was known as "The National House" and later "Bryant Tavern," and extended to the corner of Court and Fayette streets. These buildings are still standing. The part sold (a frame building) was used as a store house, Dahl and Hamilton erected a two story brick building on the property, which was later remodeled and lengthened by C. C. Lawhead, who conducted a saloon there for many years. It was later occupied by Robinson and Haneey Drug Store, Frank Flee, grocery; Hills Grocery; Chambers Drug Store; O. S. Tobin Ice Cream Parlor. About 1918, Mr. Tobin disposed of his business to parties who ran it under the name of "The Victory" confectionery and restaurant, which quit business in September, 1942."

I have seen them in line before the tellers' windows at the banks more than once. I mean the people with about a million pennies (or at least 500 to 1,000), who nonchalantly place the bag of pennies in the window for the teller to count during rush hours, regardless of the long line of patrons waiting their turn at the window.

An instance of this kind occurred at a local bank this week, and you should have seen the glares and frowns and heard the mutterings of the impatient customers tied up by the big consignment of pennies for the hard working teller to count before the next customer could be waited upon.

Reminds me of the woman (or woman) at the stamp window of the Post Office, who has a purse within a purse within a purse, takes her time digging up the change, changes her mind two or three times about the number of stamps wanted, then drops the change in the purse and restores the purse to the purse within a purse. Kind o' makes one dizzy, doesn't it!

FRENCH LABOR RECRUITER
KILLED BY FRENCHMEN

MADRID, Oct. 8.—(P)—The newspaper La Garonne of Toulouse said today a band of 20 Frenchmen had overpowered two German guards and killed the French head of the Regional Office Recruiting French labor for Germany in the Savoy region. The newspaper, which said the Frenchman's name was Calvet, added that his wife and mother were killed by the band also.

War Zones With Criticism;
Taxes in Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(P)—The Senate received the second installment today in the private report of its five globe-girdling members who say that in the Pacific at least it will be a long and costly war.

Senator Chandler (D-Ky.) key-noted the warning by asserting yesterday that more aid must be sent to Gen. MacArthur. The Japanese, said Chandler, already have started a move of industry to the Asiatic mainland. If some of the more important installations are shifted, he insisted, Japanese defenses may become almost impregnable.

$6,000,000,000 Sales Tax
On the House side of the Capitol, the ways and means committee, considering a new tax bill, heard increasing demands for a federal sales tax. Clamor for this means of bringing in revenue grew louder with suggestions built around a 10 percent levy calculated to bring in about $6,000,000,000.

Most for Dependents
Also in the House, the military committee pressed for an early vote on dependency allotment legislation. It appeared that relatives of service men were due for a mild financial windfall. The committee's tentative scale provides substantial boosts with some members asking even higher amounts now that fathers are being drafted without regard to the dependency problem.

The House military committee today reiterated its insistence that dependency be given prime consideration in draft deferments, and accused the Selective Service system of "willful perversion of the purpose, spirit and intent of the law."

The committee's attitude was voiced in a formal report recommending increased financial aid to dependents of service men of all seven enlisted grades.

The committee stated its disapproval "with emphasis, of what appears to be an effort on the part of those charged with the administration of the Selective Service system to use that law, designed as a military measure only, to force men of families to leave one kind of employment to engage in another and different employment."

The reference was to designation of non-deferrable occupations, creating cases in which a father could not be deferred, regardless of the number of children.

Envoy Exchange
The diplomatic corps noted with interest that Argentina has switched ambassadors to the United States. Replacing of Felipe A. Espil, ambassador since 1931, with Adrian C. Escobar, former Argentine ambassador to Brazil and to Spain, was looked upon by some as a routine revamping of the diplomatic set-up. Others wondered whether it was a rebuff to the United States for continued refusal of lend-lease aid to the one South American nation which has refused to join the Allies.

Balkan Guerrillas
Watched By Yanks

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(P)—The Free Yugoslav radio announced today the presence of American and British officers at partisan headquarters a short time after German sources reported a small Allied force had entered the Balkans.

In Cairo, it was announced that Yugoslav partisans had beaten off German efforts to land on island off Zara on the Dalmatian coast and on the island of Hvar, south of Split.

The free Yugoslav broadcast gave no details as to the number of Allied officers at hand but it confirmed a previous report from Cairo that several had gone to the headquarters of both Gen. Draja Mihailovic and Drag Tito.

The information gave significance to a statement last night by King Peter who told his people "the day of deliverance is not far off."

A dispatch to Stockholm from Nazi-controlled Budapest last night said a Czechoslovakian brigade equipped and trained by the British in the Middle East had landed in Yugoslavia to cooperate with partisan forces.

If the report is true, the brigade constitutes the first Allied force in the Balkans since Greece fell in April, 1941.

The Czechs were said to have gone ashore on the coast of Montenegro either at Budva or Ucinj under the leadership of a Brigadier, Rizicka, a former lieutenant colonel in the Czech Army.

Harold Boeschstein, director of the production controls bureau of the War Production Board (WPB) said reserve stocks of wood pulp will be exhausted by spring and newsprint mills already are operating 25 percent below capacity because of a shortage of raw materials and manpower.

GERMANS COUNT ON SUBS AS ONE OF CHIEF WEAPONS

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(P)—Admiral Karl Doenitz, supreme commander of the German navy, declared in a Berlin broadcast today that submarines still are Germany's greatest threat to the Allies and promised a new naval war "greater than anything witnessed so far."

"It is my firm and fanatical intention to carry on the war against the enemy's tonnage to the highest level of perfection and with all means at our disposal," he said in a war summary broadcast by the German news agency DNB.

Hoffman received $1,826 for his two 4-H calves at the show, with his other exhibit, "Bombardier," selling for $19,75 a hundred sold for $1,659. Storz said Hoffman will be given an opportunity to show the grand champion at the international 4-H baby beef show in Chicago.

Germany Is Smashed By Bombs
As Few Nazi Fliers Hit London

By ROBERT STURDEVANT

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(P)—American Flying Fortresses struck by daylight today at Bremen, Germany's North Sea U-boat and shipbuilding center, after a night of heavy attacks on southern Germany by powerful RAF bomber fleets which blasted Stuttgart, Friedrichshafen and Munich.

P-47 Thunderbolts supported the four-engine Fortresses in their assault on Germany's second largest port, climaxing the newest forceful outburst of Allied air activity.

While the British raiders were sweeping over southern Germany in strength last night, a much weaker force of German bombers struck at London and southeast England with the sharpest retaliatory blow in many months.

Heavy cloud formations prevented full observation of the results of the RAF operations, an Air Ministry communique said, but the German radio announced that "extensive damage" was inflicted on Stuttgart, where the junction of eight mainline railways rivals its industries in importance as bombing targets.

The Air Ministry said the Germans were able to push through to London only 15 of 60 raiders which crossed the English coast before midnight and dropped slightly more than 33 tons of bombs on the capital city.

Besides blasting the three important German cities, British planes laid mines in enemy waters, and the Air Ministry said that seven aircraft were missing from the night's extensive operations.

The London alert lasted approximately two hours and was one of the longest since May, 1942.

The last great raid on London occurred on May 10, 1942, when 450 tons of bombs were unloaded and nearly 1,500 persons were killed. There have been three occasions in 1943 when the Germans launched heavier attacks than the one last night.

MYSTERY VEILS
WAR IN PACIFICAttack on Wake Island May Mean New Allied Drive

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 8.—(P)—Silence still shrouds American activities at Wake Island, for the moment the focal point of the many-tentacled war of the Pacific.

The bombardment of Wake, announced Wednesday, can be only one of two things: Either a continuation of a series of American task force raids similar to those on the Marshall and Gilbert Islands, or the first step in an attempt to drive the Japanese out of the central Pacific, thus opening a channel for supplying the Philippines or for other actions in the far western Pacific.

The tip-off is whether the American force included landing of the attack is to take stolen parties. If it did, and the purpose Wake back again, the central Pacific campaign may be on.

The navy, after its brief initial warships and carrier-based planes announcement that the attack by commenced Tuesday, said nothing. Elsewhere in the Pacific the picture was pleasant today for the Allies.

Vila, an important airbase on Kolombangara Island in the Solomons, was reported by General MacArthur's headquarters to have been evacuated by the Japanese, who also were attempting to withdraw their troops from the entire southern end of that island. The communique said Allied aircraft had sunk a number of barges and small boats, inflicting heavy casualties, although some Japanese did get safely away to other islands.

In India, the arrival of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, supreme Allied commander in southeast Asia, was announced at New Delhi. Lord Mountbatten planned to confer there with British leaders and later to go to Chungking for conferences with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as well as the American commanders, Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault.

FATE OF ROME SEEN

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 8.—(P)—Navy Secretary Frank Knox predicted today that the Germans would make a "shambles" of Rome just as they did in Naples, when forced to retreat.

FEDERAL COURT JURY in Cleveland has convicted three former officials, all brothers, of the National Bronze & Aluminum Foundry company of furnishing the government with defective castings for airplane motors. The three convicted are John L. Schmeller, left, former president; Edward Schmeller, upper right, former chief metallurgist; and Frank Schmeller, lower right, former manager. (International)

Convict and Farm Girl
Hunted For 3 Killings

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 8.—(P)—Police of two states today sought a 20-year-old parolee and a pretty blonde farm girl, also 20, for questioning in a triple slaying on the farm of Everett Wilson, prominent dairyman.

The three victims, one of them strangled, the other two blasted to death with a shotgun, were Wilson's wife, Helen, 45; his mother, Mrs. Catherine Hoagland Wilson, 78; and Robert McKay 61, a hired hand.

Missing from the farm since yesterday afternoon and sought by police in northwestern Pennsylvania and northeastern Ohio were William Albert Morrell, recently paroled from Mercer County jail, and Janice Graham. Both were employed on the dairy farm.

Missing also was a black Plymouth coupe owned by McKay.

State police said the youth and girl were believed to be headed toward Ashtabula, Ohio.

State Policeman Frank Milligan said the slayings must have been committed about noon. There was no evidence the home had been looted, he added.

Many Civilians Killed in Naples
By Time Bomb Left by Germans

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(P)—Explosion of a cleverly hidden, delayed-action mine killing scores, and perhaps hundreds, in conquered Naples emphasized anew today the caution with which Allied forces must move through former enemy territory.

The Germans long have been masters in planting explosives to impede the progress of a pursuing army, but the havoc reported wrought by yesterday's blast surpassed any act of destruction the Nazis have previously achieved in absentia.

A dispatch from Noel monks, representing the combined British press, said the mine, hidden in the basement of the Naples postoffice, contained several hundred tons of high explosives.

Monks' dispatch said scores of Italian citizens, including many women and children, were blown away and others in adjoining buildings also died. Some soldiers were among the dead.

Hundreds of Neapolitans were visiting the post office, only public building left intact by the Germans when they left a week ago, and were endeavoring to communicate with relatives living in districts occupied by the Allies.

Virtually everyone on the ground floor was killed, monks said. Persons in the street a block away and others in adjoining buildings also died. Some soldiers were among the dead.

Growing Importance in Balkans and Adriatic

By RICHARD McMURRAY

The American Fifth Army captured Castel Volturno, 97 air-line miles from Rome, and Capua on the Appian way to the Italian capital, establishing a front for 16 miles today along the southern bank of the swollen Volturno River.

Castel Volturno is at the mouth of the river. Capua is inland and the site of an important crossing.

The Germans built their force to six divisions.

On the Adriatic, slightly north and 130 miles east of Rome, the British Eighth Army beat down several sharp tank and infantry attacks and improved its positions in the Termini area. Heavy rains converted most of the Italian front into mud bogs which impeded operations.

A Middle East communique disclosed the Allied occupation of Simi, a Dodecanese island 20 miles north of Rhodes, the kingpin of the group. The British said a German attack had been beaten off in which the enemy lost prisoners and heavy casualties. A German convoy in the Aegean Sea, whose entrance the Dodecanese guard, was destroyed by light naval forces. Nothing was reported from Cos (Coo) in the Dodecanese.

Unconfirmed Turkish dispatches said the British also had landed on certain of the 200 Cyclades islands, 100 miles southeast of Athens and midway between Greece and the Dodecanese.

Russian spearheads drove westward from three bridgeheads over the Dnieper River. The crossings outflanked hundreds of thousands of Germans around the river's big bend and in the Crimea and threatened them with entrapment.

The whole muddy Russian front flamed anew and in the north the Red army captured Nevel, a rail junction 70 miles from both Poland and Latvia. Railways fan from Nevel to Warsaw, 440 miles away; to Vitebsk, 65 miles south in White Russia; to Leningrad, and to the Baltic. The Russians appeared to be making a supreme effort to relieve completely the long and cruel siege of Leningrad. The capture of Taman opposite the Crimea virtually cleansed the Caucasus of Germans. Another 8,000 Nazis died.

Other War Developments

PACIFIC—The Japanese abandoned their principal air base of Vila in the central Solomons and were evacuating all of Kolombangara island in a perilous and deadly retreat through a tight sea and air blockade. Australians advanced on Madang, New Guinea, against virtually no opposition.

Bombers pounded Kahili on Bougainville. Tokyo said U. S. bombers attacked Haiphong in French Indo-China.

AIR WAR—RAF night bombers attacked Stuttgart, Munich and Friedrichshafen in southern Germany in the fifth raid on the Reich this month. Berlin acknowledged "extensive damage" in Stuttgart, where eight main rail lines meet among its war factories. Seven planes were lost. About 60 German planes bombed England, 15 dropping 30 tons of explosives in the London area. The British announced a number of casualties and damage from that tiny load.

ARGENTINA—The lone neutral of the western hemisphere switched ambassadors to Washington, raising the question of whether this was a diplomatic rebuff to the Allies. Felipe A. Espil, friendly to the U. S., was recalled. Adrian C. Escobar, former ambassador to Brazil and Spain, replaced him.

NWF DRIVE HERE BEGINS WITH AN OPEN MEETING

Date Set as Around October 25, Meeting Held in WHS Auditorium

Opening meeting of the National War Fund drive here will probably be around October 25, it was decided at a meeting of the Fayette County committee in Chairman A. B. Murray's office Thursday night.

The drive to get $22,000 for the 17 agencies represented in the National War Fund will last two weeks, Walter Patton, publicity chairman, said today. "We feel that two weeks will be enough to get this amount with the organization which we have worked out," Patton explained, adding that the 300 proposed workers in the committee would each have ten people to contact during the two weeks drive.

The initial meeting, an open meeting, to be held in the Washington High School auditorium, will feature a speaker, not yet obtained. The three report meetings, Patton said, would probably be luncheon meetings.

Originally intended to open October 10, the drive has been set back because of the extension of time on the Third War Loan drive. When the plans were first set up, the National War Fund campaign was expected to dovetail with the Third War Loan.

Committees for the campaign completed now include the industrial committee, headed by Emmett Passmore with Edwin Suntheimer, Ervin Beakman, Valden Long and Stanley Mark as his co-workers and the publicity committee, Walter Patton, chairman and Frank Ellis and Betty Cook.

Carroll Halliday, chairman of the retailers committee here and member of the state executive committee of the National War Fund, explained that during the past six months, the organization had been working on borrowed money, pending the end of the Third War Loan drive, when the National War Fund drive could begin.

Attending the meeting were committee members J. Roush Burton, treasurer; Floyd Mitchell, member of the finance committee; Glenn Woodmansee, special gifts; Carroll Halliday, retailers; Emmett Passmore, industrial; Charles Reinke, residential; Valden Long and Stanley Mark, members of the industrial committee and Charles Orr and Robert Hook, members of the residential committee.

A membership drive is now underway by the Pomona Grange, W. J. Hilty, lecturer, said today. Letters extending invitations for membership are being sent out now to all eligible members of the six subordinate granges in the county, whose membership totals approximately 1,000.

FIRE DRILL IS HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL HERE

Building Emptied in One Minute and Forty-two Seconds

Fire Chief George Hall, as part of the fire prevention week, has been joining school officials in conducting test fire drills at the various school buildings in the city and the results have been very satisfactory.

At the high school building the entire structure was cleared of children and teachers in just one minute and 42 seconds.

Inspections made of the various school buildings brought word from Chief Hall that the structures were all in unusually good condition with respect to not having fire hazards.

Chief Hall praised the cooperation generally received from the school officials, all of whom are anxious to have every precaution taken to safeguard their charges from fire hazard.

Chief Hall has also issued the following list of "don'ts" to be observed in holding fire hazards down to the minimum:

Don't keep matches within the reach of children.

Don't place ashes in baskets, card board boxes or any combustible containers.

Don't use rubber hose or flexible metal tubing with rubber connections on gas stoves.

Don't clean clothes with gasoline or naphtha.

Don't store gasoline or other inflammable liquids within the home.

Don't store oily or treated mops in closets or in corners of rooms.

Don't overfuse your electric circuits or use pennies or slugs behind the fuse plugs.

Don't allow waste paper or any rubbish to collect in your home or on your premises.

Don't hang electric wires or drop cords over nails or, in fact, any metal.

Don't smoke in bed.

Jap Warlords Are Worrying As Two-pronged Drive by Allies Progresses Steadily

Events in Asia and the Pacific emphasize the steady approach of a two-pronged United Nations drive against the Japanese, a fact admitted by Premier Tojo in warning new government officials that the Allied offensive has "gained in intensity" and that from now on their "responsibility is enormous."

Straws which show the direction of a good wind that blows the Japs no good include the arrival in India of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, commander-in-chief for southeast Asia, to prepare for the invasion of Burma. This is likely to play a major part in breaching the Mikado's home defenses.

Over in the Pacific General MacArthur's Ne Guinea offensive continues "with great speed and success," as Secretary of War Stimson puts it. Our dashing attack on Wake Island and other naval activities invite the thought that our main Pacific fleet under Admiral Nimitz is preparing an offensive against Japan's network of island bases and communications in the central Pacific. A vital buttress of this ocean magnet defense is the powerful naval base of Truk where a large unit of the Jap navy is lying doggo, afraid to come out and meet the eager challenge of our ships.

The object of the Burma campaign is, of course, to reestablish land communications between China and the outside world, and inaugurate operations that will give us Chinese air bases from which we can reach Tokyo and other Japanese cities with our big bombers. The Pacific drives are calculated to strip the eastern shield off Japan, the Philippines and the Indies.

These two offensives will complement each other. They will form the claws of great and powerful pincers which will grip the Nipponese from two sides and squeeze with increasing pressure until the Mikado's island kingdom breaks wide open.

We should remember, however, that it requires time to prepare for operations of this magnitude. We shouldn't expect the main events to begin popping tomorrow. They may be many weeks away, although the preliminaries in both theatres are proceeding steadily and well.

I am receiving letters from readers all over the country, making anxious inquiries as to what part their hero, General MacArthur, is likely to play in all this. Is he going to be leading man in the show?

Well, I think it would be a great mistake to try to look too far into the future in answering this question. As regards the immediate future we might do well to consider the remarks made by President Roosevelt in a radio-press conference earlier this week. His assertion that the Japs are being beaten in the south Pacific was interpreted as an indirect reproof to critics who are calling for more aid for MacArthur. He left the impression that the general is doing very well with what he has.

The general is indeed doing well. He undoubtedly will continue his conquests in New Guinea and adjacent islands. An important objective appears to be the big Jap base on Rabaul on neighboring New Britain—one of the chief outposts for Truk.

R.B. Tharp Appointed As New Secretary of First Savings & Loan

R. Burris (Bud) Tharp will become the secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association on January 1 succeeding Leonard Korn, who has resigned to enter the general insurance business, it was announced by officers of the association Thursday.

Tharp's appointment was made after nearly a month of investigation of possible successors to Korn.

He will go into the office on November 1, for a two month period of training under Korn, whose resignation does not become effective until January 1. Korn has been secretary of the association for the past seven years.

Tharp, who has been chief clerk of the Probate Court since 1937 when he was appointed by Lt. Col. Max G. Dice, will go into his new position with a background which the association officers feel fits him for the work he will undertake. He went into the old Ohio State Bank soon after his graduation from high school here in 1913. There he remained for five years until he entered the army in 1917 for the first World War. After the war, he came back and picked up in the bank where he had left off and stayed there until 1923, the year before the crash and depression hit the country. After that he was manager of the employment office here until he resigned to go into the Probate Court as clerk.

Leonard Korn

Judge Otis B. Core has been in Columbus attending the state welfare conference and could not be reached for comment. Whether he has any successor for Tharp as his clerk is not known, but the impression around the Court House is that he has not had time to give the matter much thought because the appointment of Tharp to his new position came with unexpected suddenness.

The association was first organized in May of 1923 under a state charter as the First Building and Loan Association. It was reorganized and put into operation under a federal charter in 1939. Few changes have been made among the directing officials in the 20 years of the association's existence. Glenn M.

Pine was the first secretary and remained until he retired from active business. Korn was his successor. The present officers and directors are: David S. Craig, president; Arthur Finley, vice president; Leonard Korn, secretary; Rell G. Allen, attorney; Wert Shoop, John E. Sheppard, George A. Robinson, Willard S. Willis and Robert R. Meriwether.

Flashes of Life

Jingle Unites Lonely Hearts
LONDON—Three years ago, 16-year-old Rose Wood, war worker at a clothing factory, dropped a jingle into a pocket in the soldier's battle dress she was making. The jingle went:
"If you are single, drop me a line.
If you are married, never mind.
If you are single, and lonely, too,
Write to me and I'll write to you."
Pte. Percy Lambert, 20, got the battledress—and the note. He wrote. They met. They were married recently.

Hints on Etiquette
It takes two to make a conversation. Remember that when you are out in company, and do not make your companion do all the talking or do it all yourself.

Today's Horoscope
Today's birthday child is frank, modest and unassuming. You are earnest in your efforts and always dependable. You are unaffected by flattery or false pride. You are reserved, yet quietly entertaining when in the company of close friends. A good idea may occur to you at 1:26 A. M., while you are on the brink of slumber. If you have a pencil and paper handy, write it down for use at another time. At 9:55 A. M., be considerate of an elderly person who may feel "left out" of domestic or social routines. At 12:29 P. M., during a rest interval, an inspiring idea may flash into your mind about the best way to develop your talents. At 10:42 P. M., go to bed early to get a lot of relaxing sleep.

trade publication advertisement, Ascap offers "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," "Coming In on a Wing and a Prayer," "Johnny Doughboy Found a Rose in Ireland." Any prediction as to how long any of these will survive would be foolhardy, but we feel daring this morning, so let's prophesy for the record that only "Praise the Lord" has any real chance of becoming the "Over There" of this war.

Ascap does offer one thought that must not be overlooked: "Over There" did not have to undergo the damning repetition with which the radio now kills popular songs. If "Praise the Lord" had not been done to death on the air, its chances of permanency would be many times as great.

GET THE "FEARS" STRAIGHT
A recent advertisement shows the picture of a wife plowing in 1777, while her husband was away fighting for their country's independence. The advertisement then stressed that by building up certain financial reserves, one can gain "freedom from the ugliest fear of all—want."

Nowhere was the point made that the woman plowing was doing a great job to help free herself and her husband and her country of a fear much greater than that of financial want, namely, fear of tyranny, fear of oppression, fear of injustice.

"Freedom from fear" and "freedom from want," as they are generally presented to our people today, seem to be based entirely on material things, as if easy living and a full stomach were the least of their fears.

Therapeutic Exercises
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
CORRECTIVE, or therapeutic, exercises consist in the scientific application of bodily movement in treatment of disease or malfunction. It is a much neglected subject in medical practice partly because medical students and internists during their years of training are not taught it very often, or very intensively.

The impression is also left that they require a special room or gymnasium and special teachers. Yet the underlying principles are very simple—a patient can be taught to use them in the bedroom or in the back yard—and for many conditions they are far more valuable than swallowing a three-times-daily dosage of medicine, which the body has to dispose of some way.

Therapeutic Exercises
The general principles of therapeutic exercises were developed more or less independently by Delsarte, in France; Ling, in Sweden; and Jahn, in Germany. In America students from the lowest grades to college—when the exercises are most beneficial—as well as athletic instructors, have been inclined to regard these turn-of-vent exercises as too monotonous and uninteresting and have preferred sports. But a reaction is on the way, was on the way before the war, and war with its setting-up exercises is speeding it. Sports often produce one-sided development, or actually break down instead of building up. At any rate corrective exercises do not kill anybody, in contrast with the mortality of football.

The best use of these corrective exercises is preventive rather than curative and lies in the field of posture. The ideal is a well-rounded physical development which the whole body shares. This is not entirely an artistic or aesthetic ideal because poor posture alone leads to many functional disease states. Round shoulders, lateral curvature of the spine, jutting neck, head carried on one side, overdevelopment of one leg or arm, may be factors in chronic arthritis, neuralgia, eyestrain, dislocation of the abdominal organs and functional dyspepsia of many varieties.

CHAPTER THIRTY
Brenda was standing in front of the tea room when Adam arrived that evening at six twenty-five.
"Boy, you DO rate a decoration!" he said.
"Don't be too sure," said Brenda, "until you hear what I've got to report."
"I mean a decoration for promptness. A woman actually ahead of time!"
"Oh, that!" laughed Brenda. "I'm that kind of a woman."
They went on inside, and Miss Sally almost fell upon their necks. The place was practically empty, and the sight of two possible diners filled the bird-like little spinster with overwhelming gratitude.
"You haven't been in my little restaurant for ages, Adam," she said. "Nor you either, Brenda. Both of you used to drop in for lunch."
"I know," said Adam, "but I'm pretty busy nowadays, and just grab a bite in the factory cafeteria."
"And I," said Brenda, "am eating at home now that I've moved out to the old place, and have Aunt Mary Moshier cooking for me."
"Is it true, Adam, that Susan Potter is working at the factory?" Miss Sally asked.
"Yes," Adam replied. "She's helping to get the cafeteria in better working order."
"And Aunt Mary is teaching me to cook," said Brenda. "Maybe Adam will give ME a job when I learn a little more."
Miss Sally shook her head slowly. "It looks as though everyone were trying to be my competitor," she said.
"Don't worry," Adam told her. "There'll always be a lot of folks who prefer Miss Sally Brown's meals."
"I certainly hope so," said Sally, and sighed.
"And now that we're here," Adam went on, "we'd like that table back there in the corner. Brenda and I have some important matters to talk over."
Miss Sally led them to the table Adam had indicated.
"I've always hoped you two would get together—eventually," she said, smiling sentimentally and filling the two water glasses.
Brenda looked at Adam. "Competing with Lindville ladies is terribly difficult, Miss Sally," she said. "Shucks! Miss Sally said, 'What with your looks and all, you ought to—'"
"What's good in the eating line?" Adam said.
Miss Sally suggested the chicken a la king, and he and Brenda ordered it.
When the little spinster had bustled off to have their orders filled, Brenda lit a cigaret and laughed softly.

OLD NAZI SPY RING CLEANED UP BY FBI

Seven Naturalized Germans Now Under Arrest

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 8.—(P)—Federal investigation of a pre-war Nazi spy ring and a German-American organization was "cleaned up" today, Assistant United States Attorney Thorn Lord said, with the arrest of seven naturalized citizens of German birth, two of them soldiers. The seven were charged in a sealed indictment opened here yesterday with conspiring to transmit to the German Reich, in violation of the espionage act, "documents, writings, code books, sketches, photographs, blue prints, maps . . . to the injury of the United States."
Lord said the indictment closed investigation of the German-American Vocational League and of a Nazi spy ring broken up by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the summer of 1941.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(P)—Lawmakers in revolt against large tax increases demanded today that the treasury bring to Congress a

$5,000,000,000 substitute for the administration's $10,500,000,000 new money program which hit Capitol Hill Monday and bunched Rep. Dingell (D., Mich.) of the Ways and Means committee said: "The committee will not follow the treasury in its huge tax estimates, and the treasury will be forced to bring in a $5,000,000,000 program. The committee should and will demand such a revised estimate."
The administration was ready to play an ace however in an effort to save its tax plan, sending Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director and a former popular member of Congress, to the Hill to present its case.

Washington at a Glance

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—This is a footnote on a series we wrote some weeks ago about the postwar employment and care of veterans of this war, but it deals with a situation that now exists—the employment of disabled veterans of World War I.
It already has become apparent that insofar as the government can force it, disabled veterans are going to be 1-A on the nation's job list.
The Civil Service Commission is the nation's biggest employer. It isn't the only agency concerned about reemployment of disabled veterans. As a matter of fact, it is only concerned with the government employment of such veterans. As such, it already is laying down the blue print for private enterprise because the employment and rehabilitation divisions of Selective Service, Veterans Administration, Federal Security Agency, and War Manpower Commission have declared their determination to do everything they can to see that private enterprise gives disabled veterans as good a break as does civil service.
That's why it is important study of the manner in which

FARM LEADERS IN OHIO MAKE PLANS FOR 1944

Want $1.10 Bushel Price on Corn, $1.75 on Wheat And $2 on Soybeans

Fayette County farmers generally will be deeply interested in action of Ohio farm leaders in Columbus, Wednesday, looking toward gearing production on farms to meet unprecedented wartime demands for food and fixing crop goals for 1944 exceeding the production of 1943 in corn, soybeans, sugar beets, barley, wheat, tobacco and seed crops.

Farm leaders in Fayette County will do all in their power to help promote the big agricultural program in the community during the coming year, but it is believed the wheat acreage in the county will not be increased materially at the last minute and will be little more than half of this year's acreage.

In the state the program contemplates bringing 25,000 additional acres into crop production in Ohio next year, Glenn Ray, Ohio Director of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, reported.

The 1944 goals and percentage changes from 1943 plantings were: corn, 3,575,000 acres, 3.3 per cent increase; soybeans, 1,500,000 acres, 5.4 increase; Irish potatoes, 100,000 acres, no change; sugar beets, 50,000 acres, 127 per cent increase; tobacco, 24,000 acres, $14.3 increase; truck vegetables, 93,000 acres, 3.3 increase; oats, 1,150,000 acres, 11.5 decrease; barley, 50,000 acres, 13.6 increase; rye, 75,000 acres, 12.8 increase; wheat, 1,650,000 acres, 6.3 increase; tame hay, 2,415,000 acres, no change; seed crops, 454,000 acres, 47.9 increase.

The meeting adopted the report of a crop committee, headed by Ray, asserting there is "more possibility of increasing production by increasing yields per acre than by increasing acreage."

The group recommended certain practices to increase acre yields, including use of an adapted variety of crops, timeliness of plantings, adequate fertilization, labor saving methods, soil conservation practices, and better planning in the use and exchange of available farm machinery.

War food administration officials were requested to increase the available supplies of liming materials, and to provide more nitrogen fertilizer than ever before.

To encourage production to meet goals, the conference recommended to the U. S. Department of Agriculture a price support of $1.10 a bushel on corn, in place of the present guarantee of 90 to 94 cents in Ohio.

Other recommended supports included $2 a bushel on soybeans and $1.75 a bushel on Ohio wheat. The group requested reinstatement of a crop insurance program for wheat recently abolished by Congress.

An increase of 50 cents a hundred pounds was urged in the present $2.10 to $2.45 price support for potatoes, if the subsidy is not renewed. The group asked continuation of the $50 an acre subsidy on truck vegetables and recommended that sugar beet price supports be increased to bring it into a favorable position with competing crops.

Subsidies were recommended for urgently needed seed crops, including alfalfa, red clover, alsike and sweet clover.

Present tobacco supports are satisfactory, the conference decided. Conferees agreed to attempt a 7 per cent increase in milk production per cow and to maintain cow numbers at the present 1,077,000 animals in 1944. An increase of 50 cents per hundredweight in the support price of milk was recommended.

Ladies Aid Society of South Solon Observes Forty-fifth Anniversary

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational-Christian Church of South Solon, held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Elma Sexton to observe the celebration of the forty-fifth anniversary of the organization.

After a short business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Carrie Bennett, the program chairman, Mrs. Eva Shaffer then took charge. Appropriate songs of long ago were sung by the group, opening the program. The two charter members present were then introduced, Mrs. Anna Rowland and Mrs. Gineva Simmerman of South Solon. Mrs. Alta Panckake of Springfield, the third living charter member, was unable to attend.

Miss Rowland and Mrs. Simmerman related some interesting incidents of the work done by the society over forty years ago. Creating much interest was a display of hand work accomplished by these pioneer member and their group. Among them was a chair quilt of red and white cotton, pieced and quilted by the ladies. Around sixty names appear on the quilt, among them are the names of Governor Harmon and his wife, governor of Ohio at that time. This quilt was begun in 1898 and was completed in 1901. It was sold at auction and netted the society over $100.

Following the program, the group was invited to the dining room where Mrs. Rowland, Mrs. Simmerman and Mrs. Cora Baughn served a dessert course. A frosted cake, attractively decorated with lighted candles adorned the table and the floral centerpiece of pink dwarf zinnias and fern flanked by tall tapers, made a very lovely setting for the delightful hour, greatly enjoyed by the forty members present.

Four new members were accepted into the society: the Misses Sara and Marib Bruce, Mrs. June Slaughter and Mrs. Helen Rehm.

All departed at a late hour, graciously thanking the hostesses for the very unusual and entertaining afternoon.

Appetizing Meals Possible With Unrationed Meats

Want a meat that's ration-free, low in cost, high in food value and flavor? Here's the answer to the question.

Long tongue of beef, brains and kidneys have been lifted from the list of rationed meats by the Office of Price Administration. All beef tongue needs long slow cooking in water to make it tender, and smoked tongue needs soaking overnight before cooking to remove the salt. Wash the tongue, cover it with water, add onion, parsley, bay leaf, a few peppercorns or whole cloves. Then simmer about three hours, skin the tongue, remove small bones and loose ends. Serve hot with tomato or brown sauce, or return the tongue to the liquid to cool, slice and serve cold.

Brains are such tender meat that they need pre-cooking in salt water to make them firm enough to handle. Soak brains in cold water half an hour, then simmer 15 minutes in lightly salted water and cool in the water. Remove any membranes. The delicate white meat may then be dipped in egg and crumbs and fried slowly in a little fat, or dipped in flour, browned in fat and served hot in cream sauce on toast or waffles. Cut in small pieces, the meat is delicious scrambled with eggs.

Kidneys rate high in food value because they are richer in iron than most meat and contain B vitamins. All kidneys need to be washed, skinned and freed of bits of fat and connective tissue before cooking. Beef kidneys need long, slow cooking in water to become tender. To remove any strong flavor, cover beef kidneys with cold water, bring slowly to a boil, discard the water and repeat several times. Then add fresh water and simmer until tender and cut kidney in small pieces to make stew or pie.

Also, here's a tip for you if the soup you make is always heavy with grease. After the soup is cooked, let it cool to allow the fat to rise and harden, then remove the fat and heat the soup for serving.

Incidentally, this saves the fat for further cooking or turning in to salvage depots for making glycerine and soap.

Blue Lion Fans Will Follow Team

A goodly number of Washington C. H. football fans are expected to follow the Blue Lions into the Tiger den down at Greenfield tonight when the team makes its first away-from-home appearance of the season. The coaches and squad will leave the field house at Gardner Park at 5:30 P. M. to travel by private car to Highland County. Football fans who have space in their cars for additional passengers, or persons seeking a ride to Greenfield, might assemble at the corner of Court and Fayette Streets to work out a "share-the-ride" arrangement so that a maximum number of boosters can find transportation in the least number of cars.

Lions Cubs Show Improvement As They Lose Warm-up Game

The Blue Lion Cubs—boys from the Junior High grades and Freshmen—will be giving Washington C. H. football fans some razzle-dazzle the like of which they never saw before in a few years if the performance they gave against the WHS varsity third team is any criterion. That's the way their coach, Clyde B. Cramer, feels about it anyway. Although they took a 13-0 beating at the hands of the older and bigger boys Friday afternoon in an exhibition game, they were

-Spying- On Sports By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(AP)—St. Looney Blues... Of all the bad breaks the Cardinals have been getting in the World Series, perhaps the worst is the two-day lay-off before the next game. . . . Bitter as yesterday's defeat was to them, they might shake it off if they were scheduled to play today, but with two days to think it over, that job of winning three of the next four games is going to look awfully big before Sunday afternoon. . . . Wonder if Billy Southworth will take a chance on pitching Ernie White Sunday? . . . The more popular idea is that Southworth will play safe and use Lanier.

DUCKS ARE BATTERED AS INDUSTRIAL LOOP SWINGS INTO ACTION

The men's Industrial League swung into action on the Main Street bowling alleys Thursday night with a bang that sent the ducks flying in all directions. The either teams, made up of veteran bowlers for the most part, ripped the lid off their schedule by smacking the head pin with near midseason form that rung up scores that crowded the 2500 mark.

Lunch time in the Stevens boys' sandwich and coffee emporium: Jimmy Dykes talking and Babe Ruth being talked to—and answering "Hi, kid." . . . Red Rolfe in earnest conversation with Twink Selkirk. . . . Scholarly-looking Will Harbridge, unruffled by the crowd. . . . Ed Barrow, not disguised by dark glasses while he still has those dark eyebrows. . . . Terry Moore hurrying through to watch the Cards' batting practice. . . . And Marine Sgt. Billy Goodrich, an ex-reporter, remarking: "The last time I saw him was in Panama. He hit a triple off Micky Harris and was barely able to make third."

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—AP—Buying of flour by the army and lend-lease agencies was heavy again today, and wheat responded to this news by advancing to new highs on the current markets. A report the administration would not press for immediate enactment of its food subsidy program also fired bullish enthusiasm. All other grains were up with wheat, barley advancing more than a cent at times. December oats moved to a 4 cent premium over the May contract. Trade dispatches from New York said the government had purchased overnight 500,000 sacks of flour weighing 100 pounds each, bringing the total for the week to about 2,000,000 sacks. At the close wheat was 1/4-3/4 higher, December $1.52 3/4, May $1.52 1/4, rye was up 1/4-1/2, December $1.19 1/4, oats were ahead 1/4-1 and barley showed gains of 1/4-3/4.

LIGHT BUT FAST TEAM TO BE FACED BY LIONS IN GREENFIELD GAME

The Blue Lions of WHS may be slightly outweighed night when they go up against the Tigers of Greenfield's McClain High School Friday night on their own gridiron, but they will not be at such a disadvantage, so far as bulk is concerned, as they have been in their two previous games this season. That is the word that come from a scout in Greenfield. The school officials there do not give out the weights of the boys on the football squad, but well informed guessers place it at an average of 140 pounds, with the afterthought that this estimate might be a little optimistic. The Tiger team is described as having "fairly speedy but very light" ball carriers in the backfield behind a hard-charging line which also handicapped by lack of avoirdupois.

lacked in high scores, it made up in competition. J. Saville of the Melvin outfit hit 217 in his second game for the high game score of the evening but P. Barr of the Puroilers, with games of 206, 205 and 174, had the best three-game total with 585.

FARM INSTITUTE PLANS MAY BE CHANGED, HINT

Marshall Granges Are Also Impressed by Seriousness Of Rationing for War

"You've got to hold on to this ration book for two years," W. L. O'Brien, chairman of the Fayette County War Ration Board, told 35 members of the Marshall Grange at their inspection meeting in the Grange Hall in Jeffersonville Thursday night.

He also said that with points soaring on canned foods, double care would be necessary. He spoke of the qualities of synthetic tires, saying that they were not as good as re-caps.

W. W. Montgomery, county agent, spoke briefly on the plans for a new type Farmer's Institute now under consideration. He said that the plans would be completed as soon as a combined meeting of the six county Granges and the Farm Bureau was held to formulate them.

County Deputy Ralph Nisley told of the State Grange meeting to be held in Cincinnati in December and described his experiences while attending a Grange meeting in Cleveland. Nisley spoke on the safety program at the meeting.

The program included readings by Mrs. Emmy Rittenour and Mrs. Leota Kelley, a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Max Morrow, a trumpet solo by Miss Carolyn Smith and piano solos by Mrs. Dunkle, music instructor in the Jeffersonville schools.

Refreshments of doughnuts and cider were served at the end of the meeting. The next session of the Marshall Grange will be the first Thursday in November at 8 P. M. in the Grange Hall. Election of officers will take place at that time.

WHS MAGAZINE DRIVE HERE IS NEARING WINDUP

Subscription Campaign Lasts One Week With Class Competition

The 18th annual magazine drive by WHS today was well under way with subscription orders piling up in unexpected proportions while students pressed doorbells of relatives, friends and neighbors to give them an opportunity to line up their reading material for the months to come and at the same time lend a supporting hand to school activities.

Classes compete during the drive—to last one week—to sell the largest number of subscriptions. It is a tradition at WHS for the seniors to win the contest and the winning class is given a party. This year, the party will be an afternoon theater party for the winning class.

Individual competition among the students is rewarded by prizes given by the Curtis and Crowell publishing companies. The prizes may be taken in the form of war stamps. Last year, Miss Nancy Lee James set the selling record with her $114.75 in magazine subscriptions sold.

Home rooms attaining 100 percent selling in dollars by next Wednesday will be treated to ice cream although only students in the rooms who have actually sold subscriptions will participate in the treat.

Last year, $1710 in magazine subscriptions was sold. The goal for this campaign is $2500. The money obtained has always been used to purchase something needed by the schools. Band uniforms, instruments and library books have been purchased with such funds.

A skit by Hal Summers was presented at an assembly program Wednesday afternoon to launch the drive. Members of the speech and dramatics classes participated in the program.
